Deputy Mayor Taylor invited questions or comments from members of the public.

Resident Matthew Smith, McCarthy Street submitted comments recommending consideration of pollinator friendly practices concerning the height of grass and natural debris.

Resident Rick Ugolini, of Cedar Drive, Orangeville, requested clarification relating to fines and penalties for animal excrement not being disposed of. Supervisor James Bramley confirmed the by-law includes animal excrement and feces under the definition of refuse.

Resident Robert Armstrong, of Mill Street, expressed concerns about standing water on a specific property. Deputy Mayor Taylor responded that the purpose of the meeting was not to address individual properties.

Councillor Prendergast provided comments and suggestions based on the clean yard by-laws of municipal comparators, relating to the height of grass, "No Mow May" exemptions, front yard vegetable gardens, and other alternatives to artificial turf. Supervisor Bramley clarified the provisions in the proposed clean yards by-law were taken from the existing property standards by-law, to expedite certain processes. He advised staff could review and take Councillor Prendergast's comments into consideration.

Councillor Macintosh asked if this by-law would address dumpster bins in driveways. Supervisor Bramley noted it hadn't been considered in this by-law and that the bins are not defined as refuse. He suggested considering timelines for long term usage of storage of dumpsters in the future.

Councillor Macintosh received clarification from Supervisor Bramley that the Town has a prosecutor on retainer for the prosecutions of violations.

11. Public Meeting - Administrative Penalties

Deputy Mayor Taylor outlined the procedure to be followed during the Non-Statutory Public Meeting pertaining to the Administrative Penalties System.

11.1 Presentation - James Bramley, Licensing and By-law Enforcement Supervisor

Supervisor Bramley presented an overview of the Administrative Penalty System (APS) By-law program including the timeline, scope and benefits of the program in comparison to use of the Provincial Offenses Act framework for laying non-criminal charges.

Councillor Andrews inquired about repetitious penalties from repeat offenders and inquired about the process for escalation. Supervisor Bramley noted the APS cannot be punitive in nature. With respect to analysis of municipal comparators, some municipalities have escalating fines. The APS is a relatively new system where escalating fines for repeat offenders have not been tested in court in terms of potentially being considered punitive in nature. He noted that the way the proposed APS by-law is structured is to have, as a starting point, a single fee. The potential for escalating fees is a possibility, by incorporating administrative fees rather than increased fines.

Councillor Stevens asked how much the APS system would cost, and if there would be additional costs. Supervisor Bramley explained that the additional cost of hiring a hearing officer would be covered through the additional revenue received through the APS program.

Councillor Stevens asked if the Automated Speed Enforcement program can use the same staff and process, if it were to be implemented. Supervisor Bramley clarified it would be a different process that will be brought forward at a later date.

Councillor Macintosh received verification that the Burn By-law could be added in the future.

Councilor Prendergast asked for clarification regarding the potential for a $350 fine for the clean yard's infraction based on the wording of the by-law, or the potential for this by-law to be used in ongoing neighbor disputes. Supervisor Bramley clarified that non-parking infractions would focus on education before penalty.

Deputy Mayor Taylor expressed concerns with the cost prohibitive fees that have been associated with appeals in other municipalities that go through a hearing officer. Supervisor Bramley advised that the proposed structure of the APS program does not currently have the additional administrative cost of a hearing fee.
